Sir Mix-A-Lot returns to Central District roots to explore music and technology

As a part of this years Africatown-Central District Black Music Summit exploring the intersection of music and technology, summit organizer and Hack Nation cofounder Wyking Garrett and the City of Seattles Startup Advocate, David Harris, sat down with long-time technologist Sir Mix-A-Lot and his manager Ricardo Frazer to help the iconic Seattle rapper realize an idea to improve workflow in the studio with voice technology. Check out what happened below.
