

Black Enterprise and Wyking Garrett Talk Community Organizing

Posted by Africatown | 24 - Jun - 2021

Africatowns own, Wyking Garrett, is making national headlines, again! This time, with a feature interview in Black Enterprise.

When Wyking is asked about how the pandemic has positively and negatively affected the Central District, he answered, The pandemic disrupted everything which caused people to pause and think about ways to do things. COVID-19 created problems that we could participate in and solve.

Thank you, Wyking for continuing to bring solution oriented leadership to Seattle and for being an inspiration at home and beyond.
